• The goal of the PHIT Workforce Development Program is to train at least 4,000 individuals in public health informatics and technology to expand the nation’s public health workforce.

• The PHIT Workforce Development Program is responsive to President Biden’s Executive Order and calls for creating and sustaining a diverse public health workforce so that the nation can better respond to future public health and biological threats.
Purpose & Approach

• The PHIT Workforce Program aims to increase the number of public health professionals trained in informatics and technology, with an emphasis on improving public health reporting through modern standards and computing.

• ONC anticipates awarding $75 million to train individuals to help modernize the nation’s public health data infrastructure, with a focus on recruiting participants from minority serving institutions (MSIs).

• ONC will provide funding in the form of cooperative agreements under the PHIT Workforce Development Program to institutions of higher education to establish or expand public health informatics education programs, creating a diverse and inclusive health information technology (IT) workforce, with a focus on engaging MSIs.

• Through a period of performance of four years, the PHIT Workforce Development Program will provide selected recipients with funding to expand their existing programs or develop a new program to train at least 4,000 individuals on public health informatics and technology to improve the nation’s public health workforce.
